

From little acorns

Surrounded by the beautiful Breidden Hills, Haimwood has evolved year-on-year to provide an exciting and challenging shooting experience suitable for all

HAIMWOOD SHOOTING SCHOOL

Where?

Haimwood Shooting Ground, Llandrinio, Powys SY22 6SQ. Set in the picturesque mid Wales countryside, Haimwood is located halfway between Welshpool and Oswestry, 10 miles from the A483 and 15 miles from Shrewsbury.

What?

Haimwood is open every day of the week. Targets are located in 30 acres of parkland and the ground offers a pay and play system, which incorporates an optional delay setting, enabling solo shooters to button their own targets. Simulated game days are very popular and, equally as popular when it rains, are the roofs that cover each shooting position. The ground boasts two towers – one 70ft and the other 40ft high. With a full range of sporting clay targets, Haimwood is able to cater for first timers, novices, juniors and experienced shots and presents an ideal location for stag and hen groups.

Other facilities?

A range of catering options are available and refreshments can be served either in the cabin, situated on stilts at the centre of the ground, or in the dining room. Cartridges and accessories are available to buy and fresh fruit and vegetables, grown at the ground itself, are the newest addition to the offerings.

In 1971, Haimwood Shooting Ground was started in the space of just one field but has since grown into one of the most challenging and worthwhile grounds in the area. Mark and Julia Nixon manage Haimwood with Mark and his team offering instruction to groups and individuals, plus personal coaching.

Haimwood offers a relaxed and informal shoot that can be enjoyed by all, but don't be fooled - National and County Champions regularly frequent the ground. Whether you want to learn to shoot or sharpen up your skills before the season, a friendly experienced team is on hand to assist you.

On the 21 June, Haimwood will be hosting a charity shoot in collaboration with Morgans of Oswestry to raise money for Shrewsbury Hospice. There will be a 50-bird sporting shoot and a pool shoot. ■

The ground works closely with Morgans Gunroom in Oswestry

Targets are selected to match the competence of each shooter
